SOCIAL INTERCOURSE.

What is there of joyful freedom in our social intercourse? We meet to see each other, and not a peep do we get under the thick, stifling veil which each carries about with him. We visit to enjoy ourselves, and our host takes away all our freedom, while we destroy his own. If the host wishes to walk or ride, he dares not, lest it seem impolite to the guest; so they remain slaves, and they feel relief to part company. A few individuals, mostly in foreign lands, arrange this matter with wiser freedom. If a visitor arrive, they say: "I am busy to-day. If you wish to ride, there are horses and saddles in the stable; if you wish to read, there are a variety of books in the parlor; if you want to work, men are raking hay in the fields; if you want to romp, the children are at play in the court; if you want to talk to me I can be with you at such an hour. Go where you please, and while you are here do as you please."

At some houses in Florence, large parties meet without the slightest preparations. It is understood on some particular evening of the week, a lady or gentleman always receive their friends. In one room are books and flowers; in another, pictures and engravings; in a third, music. Couples are ensconced in some shaded alcove, or groups dotted about the room, in mirthful or serious conversation. No one is required to speak to his host, either in entering or departing. Lemonade and baskets of fruit stand here and there on the tables, that all may take who like; but eating, which constitutes so great a part of entertaining, is a slight and almost unnoticed incident in these festive of intellect and taste. Wouldst thou like to see such social freedom introduced here? Then do it. But the first step must be complete indifference to Mrs. S.'s assertion that you were mean enough to offer only one kind of cake to your company, and to put less shorting in the under crust of your pies than the upper. Let Mrs. S. talk according to her gifts; be thou assured that all living souls love freedom better than cakes or under crust.—Mrs. L. M. Child.

ELECTRO-MAGNETIC TRAIL UPON THE GREAT NATIONAL ROAD. Col. Benton, in his late speech upon the great route across the continent, proposes to leave room for a magnetic railroad, and makes allusion to the progress of Professor Page in the development of this new power.

Professor Page has been untiring in his devotion to the application of the electro-magnetic power as a substitute for the dangerous agent of steam, and is to give us on Wednesday evening some exhibitions of the results of his investigations. It is a fact well worthy of note, and of which we should feel proud as a nation, that the first signal improvements in electro magnetism were of American origin. The first electro-magnetic engine was invented by Professor Henry; the first discoverer of principles upon which the availability of the electro-magnetic telegraph depends was Professor Henry; the first to assert the practicability of such a telegraph was Prof. Henry; the first inventor of a practicable electro-magnetic telegraph was Prof. Morse; and for aught we can see, Prof. Page is in a fair way to accomplish the complete triumph of electro-magnetic power. It would indeed be singular if all these great achievements should be of American origin.—Nat. Int.

A PLANK ROAD OVER THE ISTHMI OF TEHUANTEPEC.—"Potomac," the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Patriot, in his letter of the 13th instant says:

At no distant day, I understand, Mr. Foote will present a memorial from Jesse E. Dow and his associates, in which they will propose to carry the United States mail, troops, munitions, etc., across from the Gulf to the Pacific, by the Tehuantepec route, over a plank road, for the annual sum of $250,000, the same compensation named in the Aspinwall bill for carrying the same mails, troops, etc., over the Isthmus of Panama.

This route, proposed by Dow and Company, is nearly an air-line route, from Portland, in Maine, to the Pacific Ocean, to be traveled in eleven days. By this route Dow and Company contend San Francisco, in California, is but sixteen days distant from Portland, Maine.

A line of railroad from the latter point to Pensacola, is nearly completed. From Pensacola, steamers can run to Huasteco, in Mexico, the point on the Gulf where the Tehuantepec route overland commences, in a short time, it being some twelve hundred miles less than the run to Chagres. After crossing on the plank road, from Huasteco, in Mexico, to Tehuantepec, or St. Jago, a town on the Pacific near by, you are some eleven hundred miles nearer San Francisco than you would be at Panama; consequently, about two thousand three hundred miles would be saved by adopting the Tehuantepec instead of the Panama route.

Dow and Company propose, if their proposition should be accepted, to that the line of steamers now running to Chagres should run to Huasteco.

EMIGRATION TO THE UNITED STATES.—Measure are being taken by the Provisional Parliament of Canada, to check the extensive emigration from Lower Canada to the States of Illinois, Wisconsin and Missouri, which has been going on for some time past.

Why, there is only one way to check it. Let the Canadian Parliament declare itself "free sovereign and independent" of what Joseph Hume called the "baneful domination of the mother country." Let Canada annex itself, and then emigration will flow to it, not from it.—N. O. Delta.

It is said that office seekers, pickpockets, burglars, &c., are flocking to Washington city in crowds. This brings to mind the old, true but true maxim, "Birds of a feather, &c." Honest men must be on the qui vive.

When Dr. Johnson courted Mrs. Porter, who he afterwards married, he told her that he was of mean extraction, that he had no money and that he had an uncle hanged.

We take the following from the Baltimore Sun. We are in hopes that the unprincipled and outrageous course of the factious party in the North will have the effect of uniting the whole South in defence of her rights and institutions.—Flag & Ad.

"SLAVERY IN KENTUCKY.—The omens seem to presage the continuance and perpetration of slavery in Kentucky. Standard papers there, which have hitherto been distinguished as the friends of emancipation, have now become the enemies of it, and discouraged its advocates. Conventions and meetings in its favor have proved failures. The lower House of the Legislature, in addition to its unanimous vote against it in any shape, have enacted a law allowing slaveholders to bring into Kentucky slaves from other States, which was before prohibited. This is taking the back track."

TIGHT LACING.—A learned doctor referring to tight lacing, avers that it is a public benefit, inasmuch as it kills all the foolish girls and leaves the wise ones to grow to be women.

A singular malady is prevailing in the neighborhood of Uniontown, Pa., caused by twenty deaths out of fifty cases in two weeks. Its ravages are mainly among the young. It is supposed to be cholera, but the symptoms are described differently from that disease. The first indication being sometimes pains in the fingers and limbs, fever and headache, followed by vomiting and diarrhea. Some of the patients break out with spots, like the measles, and after death the body and face are covered with large black spots the legs and arms assuming a black color.—Baltimore Sun.

"Come here, my lad," said an attorney to a boy about nine years old. The boy went, and asked the attorney what case was to be tried next. The lawyer answered a case between the people and the devil—which do you think will be the most likely to gain the action? The boy replied, "I guess it will be a pretty hard squeeze—the people have got the most money, but the devil the most lawyers."

MORE GOLD.—The St. Louis Organ of the 18th ult., states that information has reached that place of a new discovery of gold regions in the Rocky Mountains, a little more than half way between St. Louis and Sutter's settlement in California, which far surpasses in richness the mines of the latter. The gold is said to be found not only in the sands of the streams flowing from the mountains, but upon the mountains, mixed with quartz and in the rocky state. It is in the heart of a war-like Indian country.

A volatile young man, whose conquests in the female world were numberless at last married. "Now, my dear," said his spouse, "I hope you'll mend." "Madam," said he, "depend upon it, this is my last folly."

A man was found at Trenton the other day mounted on a ladder, with his lips pressed to the telephone wires. He was kissing his wife in Philadelphia "by telegraph." It was found afterwards that he was a newly married man.

NOT IN THE BILLS.—On a certain occasion, at a certain dramatic temple, a farce was in the course of representation, and had just reached the scene where a lover, seeking almost distracted, his lady-love who had just canceled herself a moment before, (in full view of the audience) in the garden, behind some canvass representation of bushes.

"Where, O heavens? where has my lovely Julia fled?" exclaimed the actor in despairing accents, looking around every where but in the right place.

A specimen of the genius Yankee in the pit, who had hitherto been all attention, now exhibited symptoms of impatience, and as the actor repeated his impassioned inquiry he was answered by our excited Yankee with—

"Right behind yer, you darned fool! in the tater patch."

The effect of this can be better imagined than described—the applause was tremendous.

KALUMFORNIA GOLD FEVER.—"Hah! you got de janders, Pete? de white ob yer eyes an' yaller as saffron."

"Hush your mouf ob dose insidious cabarisons, Sambo. I'se got de KALUMFORNIA gold fever—wen de crisis arrives in de defirious sages, den dis individual also lubes for de regum ob perpetual gold. Dat is, Sambo, pervidid Congress dose not perhibit us to talk our slaves and oder real estate wiles."

"Well, Pete, you is insane! A gentleman ob your color talk ob foolishing after dese visionary white folks down Cape Horn. I guess 'twill be in a horn dey'll find de gold! he'll detract my remark on your appearance, and sub-surfont derefore dat all of a collar, all ober alike, you is de darkest greenest nigger in Belknap street—you is a disgrace to de whole colored sex; you is green as a geese."

"Empty dis building ob your presence, Sambo, or I'm not responsible for your early decease."

TREATMENT FOR POISON.—When a person has taken poison the remedy is to take an emetic. This may be done almost instantaneously, by swallowing a cupful of warm water mixed with a teaspoonful of mustard. If you have not dry mustard in the house you are almost sure to have a mustard-pot, and a quantity from that pot into the water will very quickly empty the stomach. As mustard may thus prove so much use, it should never be wanting in any house; but even should there be no mustard at hand, warm water by itself forms a tolerable efficacious emetic.

Wistar's Balm of Wild Cherry,

THE GREAT AMERICAN REMEDY
For Lung Complaints, and all Affections of the Respiratory Organs.

The best Remedy for Croup, Whooping Cough, Sore Throat, Croup, Croup, Bronchitis, Influenza, Bleeding of the Lungs, Difficulty of Breathing, Lively Affections, Pain or Weakness of the Breast or Side, First Stages of Consumption, &c.

This time has come when Consumption may be chased among the curable diseases! This excellent remedy, which skillfully combines the virtues of the Prunus Virginiana, or Wild Cherry, with chemical extract from the Wild pine, &c., &c., is now everywhere acknowledged by Druggists, physicians, and all who have used it.
It is the most certain and permanent ever yet offered for the cure of diseases generally of the Chest and Lungs; and on account of its wonderful popularity and ready sale, stands without a parallel in the history of medicine. It was first introduced by a regular physician and gentleman of high standing in Philadelphia, Pa. Its surprisingly invigorating effect upon the debilitated constitution, has been tried by nearly every family in our country, where Coughs, Croup, or other symptoms of consumption have made their appearance. And with such astonishing efficacy has it gained in reputation, and so extensively is it used, that we can with difficulty procure it from the proprietors in quantities sufficient to meet the demands for it from our numerous friends engaged in the sale of this Balm.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 10, 1847.
Messrs. S. P. PARK & GARDNER—Gentlemen: I take this opportunity to inform you of a remarkable cure performed in my own case, by the use of Dr. Wistar's Balm of Wild Cherry. About the 1st of September, 1846, I was attacked with a violent cold, which settled upon my lungs,
and during the progress of the disease, I labored under a distressing cough. And quite lost all hope of recovery, until about a week or so ago,
I was induced to try your Balm of Wild Cherry, and before I had used half of one bottle, my cough was relieved, and I am now, by the blessing of God, and the further use of this Balm, restored to perfect health. Yours respectfully,
